SUPERVISOR

Shift, Weekend, Day, Night, Evening, Minimum 20 hours per week, Holiday is also usually required

SKILL REQUIREMENTS:

Experience:

2 to 3 years

(Candidates with relevant experienced will be preferred.)

Languages:

English

Specific Skills:

- Leadership: You will have several people you need to supervise in addition to handling general complaints, last-minute schedule changes, kitchen mess-ups and inventory problems. Supervisor is leader when manager is absent and should represent our company and yourself well by acting as a role model to the people reporting to you.
- Organization: There will be a million and one things going on, as a supervisor and everyone will assume that you have it all worked out for them. You should be able to stay focused during busy times and delegate tasks to employees to keep business running smoothly.
- Recruiting and training: Supervisor is usually the one responsible for recruiting and interviewing quality people to staff your location, as well as making sure these new employees transition as smoothly as possibly into their jobs. You should be a good teacher who tries to help employees who are having difficulty picking up new skills.

- Being friendly and outgoing: People skills and customer service are a must in this job. Not only will you interact with your employees every day, but you will also need to assist customers when they have questions, concerns or complaints. Put on a happy face and address these issues in a professional manner.
- Staying attentive: This is not a position where you can sit back, forget about the people around you and do your own thing. Your job is to be attentive to your employees by motivating them to succeed and improve. Even if business is slow, keep your staff in high spirits and be as helpful as possible to customers and clients.
